

I firmly feel that the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections.

Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has improved my time at home, by cutting out unwanted calls. I used to receive 10 or more calls per week, now I receive NONE.

Indiana's telephone privacy law is extremely important to me. It has given me back peace in my home, free from incessant marketing and sales. Please do not diminish the protections that millions of Indiana residents enjoy as a result of this states telephone privacy law. Please do not replace it with a lower national standard. I do not want to see the harassing telemarketing return to my phone.
